Disclaimer

Fine Art Patina Finishes: Elite Bath Inc...will not accept responsibility for changes to your patina finish. Fine art finishes will vary, no two will be exactly alike only very similar. We have gone through great efforts to develop the most stable patinas for your bronze sink. Regardless, your bronze will continue to age, darkening of the colors already displayed. The change could be more dramatic depending on the environment your sink is exposed to. Sunlight and moisture are two variables that can dramatically change your Fine Art Patina Finish. Our Fine Art Finishes are sealed with a thick protective coating to prevent moisture from contacting the metal surface. We would recommend not placing your sink under a window where there is a lot of sunlight. Protective Coatings Elite Bath Inc, only accepts responsibility for defective coatings. These coatings will show poor adhesion to the surface of your sink, as determined by our inspection. Please refer to our return policy and warranty. Plated and waxed finishes. Elite Bath does not accept responsibility to damaged finishes. We do not accept responsibility for color changes or damage caused by poor customer maintenance. These solid cast sinks are hand crafted, thus will not have a perfectly machined surface. Each sink may have small irregularities on the shape and surface of it. Small indentations, "pin holes, hairline cracks", varying color tones, none of these things constitute factory flaws.

Return Policy

If you have somehow damaged your sinks finish, beyond your means of repair. For a fee and shipping we will replace or repair your sink.
